A photograph of a single-story building with a light-colored, horizontally-ribbed facade. The word "North" is printed on the left side of the building. A large, multi-paned window is visible on the right side. In the foreground, there is a green lawn with a directory sign that lists various departments and their locations. A paved road is in the immediate foreground, and a portion of a silver car is visible on the right. The building is surrounded by mature trees and shrubs.
